WANTED AT ROCKVILLE.

Effort to Get Condemned Murderers Sheriff Thompson of Montgomery county, Md., is now anxious to have Armstead Taylor and John Brown, convicted of the murder of Louis and Dora Rosenstein, returned to Rockville, to be kept the remaining two weeks of their lives. The condemned men are still in the Frederick jail, where they were taken for safe-keeping, and it is their earnest desire that they be kept there until the morning of their execution. While Taylor admits his guilt he says he does not want to be made a victim of mob violence. Death on the scaffold at the hands of the officers of the law, he thinks, is not so dis-graceful an ending as death at the hands of a mob. Brown, who still insists that he is innocent, also prefers his present quarters to a cell in the Rockville jail. Sheriff Thompson objects to paying guards at Frederick to maintain the death watch. This expense has to be defrayed by Mont-gomery county, and the sheriff think resi-dents of the county ought to get the money. He wants to get possession of the prisoners tomorrow, but it is believed that the judges will refuse to have them taken to Rock-ville until the day before their execution.

CAMP MEETING.

Service Under the Trees at Washington Grove.

Correspondence of The Evening Star. WASHINGTON GROVE, August 2, 1899. A drenching rain, with a heavy fall of hail stones and a terrific electric storm, swept the camp this afternoon at the hour set for the children's first service. The sunrise prayer meeting was led by Mr. Henry Strang and brought a tried and faithful few. At 9:30 the Mothers in Israel met in the chapel for praise and prayer, at which service Mrs. M. E. Cohen presided. The tabernacle call summoned these devout women to the auditorium at 10:30 to an altar service of consecration, which was the prelude to a full day of home missionary ndeavor.

Mrs. J. E. Gibert, secretary of the Batt-more conference, presided, at whose request Mrs. Walter Duval of Wesley Chapel read the Scripture lesson from Phil. Liv. After prayer by Rev. C. W. Pate, Dr. Wilson was introduced and gave an inspiring talk upon Phebe, a servant of the church, by which he emphasized the important and farreaching work of the deaconesses. Miss Martha Trennis of Sibley Hospital told in quaint and pleasant narrative many incients in their ministry of nursing, and won or the hospital many new sympathizers. Mrs. Clara Roach announced that a purchase of adjacent ground had recently been made and a commodious annex would be begun at once, to be used in part for wards for the recention of colored nationts Many of the little tots were kept indoors by the storm, but Misses Miner and Trenais delightfully entertained the few brave After a vesper service for the young peo-ple, led by Rev. EXCURSIONS.

Few people would object to the hot days if the evenings were cool; but after a long, tiresome day of work the nights seem al most unbearably hot and sultry, with every one making a vain undeavor to keep cool. In marked contrast to the air in the city are the cool breezes enjoyed by those who take the evening sails to Indian Head on the steamer Charles Macalester. Dancing at Marshall Hall is as popular as ever, for the big pavilion is always cool, and Prof. Schroeder's band plays the most inviting dance music. Steamer Charles Mac alester leaves at 6:30 p.m. every Thursday, Friday and aSturday, and leaves every week day for Mount Vernon and Marshall Hall at 10 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. On Sundays. to Marshall Hall at 11 a.m., 2:30 and 6:30

The attraction at River View on Sunday next and on the following Wednesday will be little Miss Retta Danzell, the youngest girl aeronaut in the country, who, under the direction of Prof. Ed. Hutchinson of this city, will make a trip toward heaven in the monster balloon "Dewey," and when thou-sands of feet in the air will descend in a parachute. Miss Danzell, the little aero-naut, is well known to the people of Wash-ington, having made ascensions at River View last season, and on one of the flights an elevation of 5.500 feet was reached. This year a much larger balloon is being used, and it is expected that she will go higher than she ever did before. The usual band concerts will, as usual, take place on Sunday next.

The trips of the steamer Estelle Randall Chapel Point, stopping at Clifton Beach, both going and returning, are among the most pleasant outings out of Washington, and each Sunday she carries a large throng of pleasure seekers to the Point. On Sunday next she will, as usual, make another of these trips, leaving her wharf here at 9 a.m. and Alexandria at 9:30 a.m. The sail to and from Chapel Point, in all about 110 miles, is a most pleasant one, and one that is greatly enjoyed, the little steamer being admirably arranged for observing the beautiful scenery of the river. At Chapel Point three hours are given to enjoy the fine salt water bathing, crabbing and fishing, and for the old-tashioned Maryland dinner, which is served at Hotel Bellview. Those who do not care for the bathing or fishing can visit old St. Thomas Manor Church, one of the oldest in Maryland. On the return trip the steamer will leave Chapel Point in order to reach this city about 10 closek. o'clock.

A Successful Lawn Party.

The lawn party held Monday evening at 12th and Lansing streets, in Brookland, for the benefit of the Episcopal Church of Our Savior of that suburb proved a success both financially and socially. The grounds were prettily decorated with Chinese lanterns, while the various booths were festooned in attractive colors. The attendance included many from the neighboring suburbs and the city, while the clergy of the vicinity was represented by Rev. Father Hannon, paster of the Catholic Church of St. Anthony; Rev. Dr. Dolloway, Rev. Mr. Williams, pastor of the Church of Our Savior; Missionary Amos and Rev. R. R. West, pastor of the Queenstown Baptist Church. Music was furnished throughout the evening by Mr. Trown's orchestra. A goodly sum was realized, which will go to-ward defraying the expenses of an excur-sion for the Sunday school.

The various tables were presided over as follows: Candy, Miss White and Miss Hall: supper table, Mrs. Barton, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Holland; confectionery, Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Carmick and Mrs. Quinn, Newman, Mrs. Carmick and Mrs. Quinn, assisted by the young ladies of the congregation; peanuts and lemonade, Mr. and Mrs. Eckerman. Increase Asked.

The chairman of the board of assistant assessors of the District, Mr. James A. Bates, has submitted to the Commissioners the following estimate of the amount of money necessary for the conduct of the board during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901: Three assistant assessors, at $3,000 each, $9,000; one clerk to the board, $1,500; one driver, $600, and contingent expenses, $1,200, making a total estimate of $12,300. Under the current act the board is allowed only one clerk and as the duties of his office are arduous and important the board recommends an increase in his salary from $1,200 to $1,500. This clerk, it is stated, is frequently required to work after office hours in order to keep his work up, and as he has the confidence of the board in his fidelity and integrity, the board considers that as a matter of justice the increase his salary should be made.

Alleged Threats.

William C. Wallace was today held by Judge Mills in $300 bail for making threats of personal violence toward Alexander C. Cook. The matter grew out of the giving of testimony by Mr. Cook in a case in the Police Court a couple of weeks ago in which Mr. Wallace was interested. Judge Mills said if the courts permitted the treatment of witnesses as was done by Mr. Wallace the courts would soon become a burlesque. The defendant went back, but efforts are being made by friends to secure a bondsman, in order that he may be released.

FOR DIVORCE.

Their Husbands. petition for divorce filed today by Osie A. Wright against James H. Wright, desertion on the part of the latter is alleged. The couple were married at New Castle, Va., August 25, 1887, and lived together until July 30, 1897. Her husband left Washington and went to Georgel, Va., states Mrs. Wright, and though she desired to go with him, he refused to take her. The petitioner, continuing, says she has been willing to join the defendant, but he has refused to furnish her transportation and has used his utmost endeavors to keep her away from him, writing her letters, in which he stated that sheemust not come to him, as he is passing himself off as a single man. The solicitors for Mrs. Wright are Wilson & Barksdale.

A petition in equity, asking the court to decree her separate maintenance, was filed today by Catherine Babbington, through Attorneys Birney and Woodard, against Thomas Babbington. The couple were mar-ried June 23, 1889, and have three children. It is alleged that soon after the marriage Mr. Babbington commenced to treat his wife with indifference and then with cruelty, until she was forced to leave him; but, at the expiration of one year, returned, at his request. She left him twice thereafter, she says, owing to abusive, harsh and cruel treatment, but returned in view of his promises to reform.

Repeatedly since her final return, says

Mrs. Babbington, her husband has abused and beaten her to such an extent that she carries upon her person marks of violence which, in her opinion, will probably remain with her all her life. Recently, she says, she was compelled to procure the arrest of the respondent, whereupon he was bound over in the Police Court to keep the peace toward her. Being fearful and reasonably certain that her husband will kill her and perhaps kill the children, so states Mrs. Babbington, she desires the court to grant her separate maintenance and also to enjoin the respondent from in any wise intruding upon her. The respondent, it is explained in the peti-tion, is the proprietor of the saloon busi-ness at 1st and H streets northeast.

She has succeeded in securing the co-operation of Rev. Father Mallon, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Church, and Rev. Mr. Bratenahl, rector of St. Alban's Episcopal Church. It is understood that an en puraging sum has been subscribed, and father Mallon, pending the selection of a more convenient place, has tendered the use of the lower rooms in the town hall. It is proposed to introduce pool tables, games, a well-stocked library and other incidentals to narmless amusements. It is Mrs. Hunt's object to keep boys off the public roads. The idea is particularly indersed on account of its non-sectarianism. Mrs. Hunt has done many things for Tenleytown, and though a comparatively late comer, exerts great influence for good in the village. His First Offense. Perry W. Pulley, a middle-aged colored man, living on Vermont avenue near Flori-Estate of Lucy A, Caulk; will fully proved. Estate of Enoch Williams; will partly proved. Estate of Amelia Sherman; valued in all at $25, from Saks & Co., by whom he was employed. The defendant's counsel, Mr. Thomas L. Jones, exhibited a number of letters from Senator Gorman, former Governor Jackson of Maryland and many other prominent men, testifying to Pulley's good character when he was known was Pulley's first offense, and he thought the accused man must have been out of hi mind when he committed the thefts. M Jones related to the court many incidents to prove that his client had, up to the present occurrence, been almost a model man. He also said that all the stolen articles were recovered.

Judge Mills said he would take into consideration what had been said by Mr. Jones, but that larceny when proven must be punished. He then imposed a fine of $2), which was paid and Pulley was released from an

To Deliver Oration. Mr. W. Calvin Chase of this city has been invited by the citizens of Frederick, Md. to be the orator of the day on the occasion of their emancipation celebration, which is to take place Thursday, August 24. The first oration delivered by Mr. Chase was in 1897, which was highly satisfactory, and for that reason he has been invited again. There are generally from five to eight thousand people in attendance on the occasion of these celebrations. Maj. C. A. Fleetwood of this city has charge of this section for

LAID TO REST. Funeral Services Over the Late Jos. K. Strasburger.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Joseph K. Strasburger were held this afternoon at the family residence, 1928 8th street northwest. The services were conducted by Mr. I. L. Blout in the absence of Rabbi L. Stern. The interment was in the Jewish cemetery. The Eiks lodge was represented by a delegation, the deceased having been one of the organizers of the Baltimore Lodge, No. 7. Mr. Strasburger was fifty years of age. He was born in Balti-more and came to this city some twelve more and came to this city some twelve years ago, and managed the opera house then on the site of the present Academy of Music. He subsequently had a clothing store on F near 12th street, and of late years had the advertising and refreshment stand privilege at the base ball park.
